

Terms and Conditions

Cancellations

24 hours' notice must be given on any cancellations or re-arranging of lessons. I appreciate that in severe weather or in emergencies this is not always possible and will use my discretion in these instances. However if I feel that 24 hours' notice could have been given, then the client will still be subject to paying 50% charge.

Punctuality

I always aim to arrive at least 5 minutes before our arranged session time. If for any reason I am held up, I will contact you to keep you updated. I expect the same from clients but do appreciate that horses are not always the most helpful.

It is up to the client whether they wish to be mounted when I arrive or not and I am happy for clients to have warmed up briefly before we start, but again this is at the client's discretion.

Safety

Safety is my highest priority for me, my clients and their horses. I will only ever suggest exercises I feel are suitable to the level of horse and rider in front of me at any given time. If a client does not feel happy to complete an exercise I have suggested, I am happy to discuss this and to agree a mutually agreed plan of action. Alternatively if I feel that a horse and rider partnership is not safe together, I will step in but please be assured this will only be with your best interest at heart.

Honesty

I stand by the mantra that Honesty is the Best Policy! I will always endeavour to be honest with my clients and always appreciate when they are honest with me too. If you feel that you disagree with an exercise I have suggested or something I have said, say so! Every day is a school day when it comes to horses and we can all learn something from each other.

Payment

Payment for sessions can be made by cash or bank transfer (just let me know and I can provide account details). If paying by cash this needs to be at the time of the session, or if by transfer by midnight that day. If for any reason it is different, please discuss with me. Rates for sessions will always be agreed before starting and are agreed to when booking the session.

Laura from White Horse Support gave me confidence with my horse during a difficult time. She was sensitive my horse's needs as well as my own. Laura helped me access my confidence with relaxed and fun instruction and also provided us with new schooling ideas which my horse and I both benefit from and enjoy. I highly recommend!

Laura has been a god send in helping me keep the weight off my pony throughout the winter and also at getting him hacking on his own which has given me more confidence. Highly recommend 😊

Thank you for choosing me to help you & your steed on your journey!
